

Maya

G C G C G D G
Maya comes out of Nowhere, she wants you for her own
G C G C G D G
She gets you to beg at her altar and bow down in front of her throne
C G C G
The potion you drink, it makes you think
em D C D G
You never want to go home, no, never go home

She looks so enchanting; she plays you a song on her drums
She takes you dancing; you follow the steps that she does You're caught in her spell, she's taught you well
The way to get to her heart, oh, the way to her heart

em C
Maya, Queen of Illusion
G D em C
She's got the ace of confusion up her sleeve
D
The best place to look through her veil em
Is down on your knees
C D
Until you can see through her shadow
G
You never can leave

She leads you down to a pool at the Bottom of Nowhere
You see her reflection; she makes you want to drown there
She's taken the day; you can't come away
And you can not leave her behind, oh no, leave her behind

CHORUS

You would if you could, you'd betray her but she slams down the bars on your pain
And leaves you to your weeping alone in your prison of shame
Escape if you're able to tip all the tables
In her magical temple of games, oh ho, her temple of games

CHORUS

©Cindy Lowe 2002 / Recorded on Everlasting

Note: I've only added chords for the first verse and chorus but the verses are all the same. I recorded this song in G# by putting a capo on the 1st fret.