

Now Till the End (Love You Now)

On the river of my tears
Through the forest of my fears
In the valley of my shadows and sorrows
Only one thing has been clear
In the darkness of my years
Wherever You would take me, I would follow

I love You now
I will hold to You somehow
Even though You break my heart again
Your love goes on
Though my world has come and gone
I will love You now till the end

Oh, the walls have seemed so high
And the distances so wide
Let the strangers in my heart all disappear
Make me free to be with You
In the way You want me to Take my heart, take my life, take my tears
